

Dr Heiner Flocke is the head of iC-Haus GmbH in Bodenheim (near Mainz), which specialises in the production of application-specific integrated circuits (ASICs) for the automotive and other industries. The firm has about 230 staff in Germany, plus an international presence.

Dr Flocke is also chairman of the patentverein.de eV, set up in 2003 as a self-help organisation for industry.